

PROJECT SUPPORT GUIDELINES

The City Arts Grants program is designed to provide financial support for arts programs and projects in Salt Lake City that merit public funding. There are five City Arts Grants categories, each with eligibility standards, guidelines, and review criteria. The Salt Lake City Arts Council Board places a priority on those programs that best reflect the Arts Council's mission.

City Arts Grants can support only those programs and projects which serve the residents of Salt Lake City and which take place within Salt Lake City limits.

The City Arts Grants program is competitive and includes a rigorous application review process. A newly completed application must be submitted each year and a grant award in one year does not guarantee an award for the following year. The award of City Arts Grants is made at the sole discretion of the Salt Lake City Arts Council and the decision of the board is final.

Submitting More Than One City Arts Grant

Contact the Arts Council for further clarification if you are planning to submit multiple grant applications.

Applicants may only submit one application per grant year. The exception to this are applicants who wish to submit an Arts Learning application for an arts education project in addition to a General Support or Project Support application.

PROJECT SUPPORT DESCRIPTION

Project Support grants are awarded to individuals, groups, and nonprofit organizations for specific arts projects and programs which are determined to be of value to the community. Concerts, performances, festivals, workshops, and readings are examples of projects eligible for funding through Project Support grants. Project Support grants have an at least one-to-one cash matching requirement.

APPLICATION DEADLINE IS MONDAY, JUNE 26, 2017, 5:00 P.M.

Eligibility:

In order to be eligible for a General Support grant, the applicant must:

- Be a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization, individual artist or group of artists;
 - All projects whether facilitated by an organization, individual artist, or group of artists, must have a community component, outreach effort, or provide a service to the community. The Arts Council does not offer artists' fellowships.
- Request support for arts projects and programs occurring in Salt Lake City;
- Have matching funds for the requested amount of at least 1:1. This match can be through cash, earned income, private or public support, or through a combination of these resources;
 - Matching funds may be anticipated at the time of application, but must be received and obligated by the ending date of the grant year.
 - Match cannot be met with other funds from Salt Lake City Corporation.
 - Because City Arts Grants funds are limited, applicants are expected to seek additional sources of support, including contributions (from individuals, businesses, and foundations), earned income, and grants from other government agencies. A balance of revenue sources demonstrates good fiscal planning as well as broad community support.

- In-kind contributions are welcome, but will not meet the matching requirement.
- Be responsible for tracking and reporting demographic information on participants;
- Perform services within a twelve-month period beginning no earlier than September 1, 2017 and ending no later than August 31, 2018.

Funding Limitations:

City Arts Grants cannot be awarded to:

- Projects already underway or completed prior to the grant year;
- Programs or travel outside of Salt Lake City;
- For-profit business, such as a corporation or LLC;
- Deficit reduction.

Insurance

As a good business practice, the Salt Lake City Arts Council encourages all applicants to purchase some form of liability insurance, appropriate to the activity, for both project participants and audience members.

Review Criteria

The following are considered during the review and approval process for applications:

- Community aspects of programming, service to the community;
 - Outreach efforts and services to the community are evaluated by a clear explanation of the people served, why the organization provides this service, and how the service fits the overall mission of the organization.
- Payment of professional fees to artists;
 - The Salt Lake City Arts Council values paying artists professional wages. Organizations that pay artists for their services will be given priority. A guideline for fees to be paid is a minimum of $30 per hour for the artists' time.
- Completeness and clarity of application;
- Artistic quality;
- Ability to administer and implement programming, including the development of a realistic budget;
 - The clarity of the organizational description and presentation of a balanced budget will demonstrate an applicant's ability to administer and implement programming.
- Constituency served and number of people served through the project;
 - Organizations that demonstrate efforts to reach a broad audience will be prioritized.
- Value to the community as evidenced by community support, public profile and public participation;
- Effective and accountable management practices;
- Programs and services must be open to the public and not restricted to members only;
- Access for all constituents regardless of race, color, national origin, religion, gender, disability, age, or economic status
- A community-based board of directors or trustees (if applicable).

Review Process:

The Grants Committee, comprised primarily of Salt Lake City Arts Council board members with knowledge of the arts community, educational system, and the community-at-large, meet regularly to review City Arts Grants applications. The Grants Committee includes new members each year.

Committee members are provided with the applications in advance in order to review the materials prior to each meeting. Committee members receive and review only the information presented in the application. An applicant's previous award status is not part of the review process. Applications are reviewed by grant category, and decisions for funding are based on comprehensive discussions on the merits of each application and on the budget allocated for the City Arts Grants program. The Grants Committee will not award an amount in excess of what is requested in the application budget. Award amounts from year-to-year may change due to the number of applications submitted, makeup of the Grants Committee, and available budget.

The Grants Committee will meet in the summer of 2017 to review all Project Support applications. The Committee's recommendations will go before the Arts Council Board for discussion and final approval in August. Applicants will receive notification of recommendations and final decisions via email in August.

Correspondence will be conducted primarily through email and the online grants management software. You will not receive a hard copy notification letter of your grant status. This information will be sent via email. Please be sure your account information lists current contact information.
